FROM:

George Chomiak

DATE:

17 December 1982

SUBJECT MATTER:

DINOSAUR EXHIBITION

You may have heard that the Council of the National Museum of Victoria has commissioned an evaluation of the impact of the Chinese Dinosaur Display. (Dinosaur Impact Statement?)

I have been asked by the Director to carry out this exercise. It started Monday, 13 December 1982 and will continue till 21 January 1983.

It will attempt to find out the following:

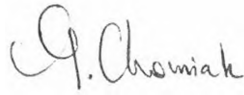

- a. Peoples emotional and factual response to exhibition.
- b. Do people grasp facts that are presented?
- c. Do people register the concept of extinction and it's implications.
- d. Do people understand what they see?
- e. How did people find out about display?
- f. Did people enjoy and get value for money from display?
- g. Will people come again and why?

Data will be collected from school children, teachers, general public (family groups and individuals), scientific staff, attendants, administrative staff, technical staff, volunteer ushers/guides (and perhaps friends).

I have already met with some members of staff and intend to meet others to discuss their views about Display. If I miss you, it will not be a deliberate snub; if you would like to offer any views I will gratefully listen to you and discuss relevant ideas. You will find me in Eric McClellan's Office or around the National Museum.

To give you a better idea of what is being attempted, I have attached a questionnaire for your information and interest.
